

Faculty of Humanities Undergraduate Studies

APPLY FOR STUDY IN THE HUMANITIES

The Faculty of Humanities offers students a variety of courses and disciplines including those in the Arts; the Social Sciences and the Performing & Creative Arts. The flexibility and adaptability of a Humanities degree is one of its huge advantages. The Bachelor of Social Science (BSocSc) and Bachelor of Arts (BA) programmes offer a wide choice of subjects which will give you an equally wide range of skills in reading, writing, interpretation and argument.

Employers value a Humanities graduate's imagination, language competence and social sensitivity and the broad, flexible skill base and adaptability to a variety of work situations which come from a varied undergraduate experience. Further postgraduate study (in for example education) offers students the opportunity to obtain vocation-specific qualifications.

Possible careers for Humanities graduates include: Filmmaker, Psychologist, Human Resources Manager, Television Writer, Educator, Policy Advisor, Journalist or Editor, Lecturer, Marketing and Brand Manager, Media Analyst, Historian, curator, Sound Engineer, Musician and Archivist... to name a few.
